STANLEY IS ALIVE!

Authentic Information Seems to Come to London Concerning the Great African Traveler.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—A Zanzibar dispatch says: Letters, dated Stanley Falls, August 29, have been delivered here by Tippoo Tib's men. They state that a letter was received at Stanley Falls, from Henry M. Stanley, August 28. Stanley was then at Bonyala, on the Arwhumi river, where he arrived August 17. He had left Emin Pasha eighty-two days before in perfect health provided with plenty of food.

The West African Telegraph company has received the following dispatch from St. Thomas, dated Friday, 2 p. m.: "I have just received information that Henry M. Stanley, with Emin Pasha, has arrived on Arwhumi. The news is reliable. Further details will follow."

[Signed.] "Parsons, Agent."

A THIEF'S WORK.

Cancelled Bank Notes Appear at the National Treasury for Redemption.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—One or more national bank notes, once redeemed, and cancelled and supposed to have been destroyed, have appeared a second time at the treasury department for redemption. It has been found that a theft must have been committed by some person having the handling of such notes after their redemption by the department.

There was but one note and it was for $20. It had been accepted by the bank in Washington in the regular course of business and was sent to the treasury for redemption. The National bank notes, when redeemed by the United States treasurer, are partially cancelled by cutting off the two lower corners and are transferred to the office of the comptroller of currency, where they are punched, through the centre and then placed in a macerating machine for destruction.

After their cancellation, and before their destruction, they are committed to a special committee composed of representatives of the treasury, comptroller, and of the bank by whom the notes were issued. This committee counts, verifies, notes, and superintends their destruction. The notes in question had been properly cut and punched, but in some mysterious manner, escaped the macerating machine.

It had been pieced with the other notes so as to resemble a complete note, but the work was done in such a loose, careless manner that the treasury officials had not been discovered before it came to them for second redemption. No other notes of the kind had been presented and it is not believed that there are any more in existence.

THE LONDON HORROR.

Another White Chapel Murder is Committed in the Great City.

LONDON, Dec. 21.—The body of a woman, name unknown, was found yesterday in the Streets Popular in the suburbs of London. An empty phial lay beside the body and the impression first was that the woman committed suicide. At the coroner's inquest to-day, however, the physicians who examined the body testified there were no signs of poison in the stomach, and declared the belief that the woman had been murdered by strangulation.

The condition of the body justified this belief, and in addition, there was a mark on the woman's neck which showed that a small cord had been tied tightly around it. The woman was of a low character. When the body was found it was still warm.

It was lying in the open thoroughfare, and there is no possibility that the woman could have taken her own life. Some persons believe that her murderer is identical with the White Chapel fiend, who they think has adopted a new method of disposing of his victims.

PANIC IN OIL.

A Break in Prices in the Pittsburg Market Causes Excitement.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 21.—There was great excitement (almost a panic) at the oil exchange this morning, caused by an unexpected break in the prices. The market opened firm at 92 1/2c.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Dec. 21.—Wheat, firm, at $1.01 1/2. Corn, easy, at 34c. Oats, steady, at 25 1/2c. Rye, 50 1/2c. Prime timothy, no trading. Flaxseed, $1.63. Whisky, $1.20. Pork, easier, at $13.05. Lard, steady, at $8.40. January short ribs, $6.90.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Indiana—Fair.

CONGRESS.

The Business Done in the National Legislature To-day.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Mr. Chandler presented three additional memorials, numerous signed, from the three voting precincts of Orangeburg county, S. C., alleging the denial of the right of voting in the late election, and praying for an investigation. Referred.

The public printing deficiency bill, reported back without an amendment, was passed. It appropriates $63,000 for purchase, and $5,000 for the observation of the eclipse of the sun on the 1st of January next.

The resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Teller for the appointment of a committee to investigate the office of supervising architect of the treasury during the administration of the present supervising architect was taken up. Mr. Vest moved to amend by making it include the administration of the last supervising architect. Teller accepted the amendment.

The vote on the senate tariff bill will be taken on the 21st of January.

AFTER FOXES.

One Thousand Hunters Participate in a Great Fox Chase and Only Catch Two of the Sly Animals.

SABINA, Ohio, Dec. 21.—A great fox drive was participated in here yesterday afternoon by over 1,000 hunters of Clinton, Fayette and Highland counties. The circle, ten miles in diameter, was two miles northeast of Sabina. Nine foxes were espied by the crowd when they closed in upon them, but some of the crowd broke the circuit and seven foxes escaped. Two were captured and sold to the highest bidder for $8 and $6 respectively.

A LAND MARK ABLAZE.

The Old East Main Street Bridge Badly Damaged by Fire.

The wooden bridge across the Maumee river, at the junction of the St. Joe and St. Mary rivers, near the old fort site on East Main street, caught fire from an unknown cause at noon and the east half of the structure was badly burned before the firemen could subdue the flames.

The brisk wind had a clean sweep at the blaze, and it is miraculous that a trace of the bridge is left. The fire was discovered by a boy, and seems to be of unknown origin, for the department was notified by the City Carriage works.

The damage is said to render travel over the bridge unsafe, as the roof, flooring and sides of the east half are cindered.

It can be repaired, however, at a cost of $1,000 or upwards.

The bridge was built by the county in 1862, at a cost of $3,500, and is one of the land marks.

The burning of this bridge has given rise to the demand for a bridge across the Maumee east of the Berghoff brewery.

A BRAVE GIRL.

Miss Carrie Hill, of This City, in the Role of a Heroine.

The friends of Miss Carrie Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hill, of this city, will be interested in this bit of heroism displayed by the young lady, who is known on the stage as Marie Carlyle.

The New York Clipper of this week, tells the story: "Marie Carlyle, of Gibson & Ryan's 'Abundance' company, by her bravery and admirable presence of mind prevented a fire at the hotel at New Haven, Conn., where the company were stopping last week. The curtains in her room accidentally caught fire. She quickly jerked them down and trampled the blaze out, not, however, before the adjoining woodwork was in flames, which she also subdued before help arrived. Miss Carlyle was slightly burned about the hands."

HE CAN DIE AT HOME.

President Cleveland Grants a Pardon to Benjamin Hopkins, the Fidelity Banker.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—The president to-day returned to the attorney general the papers in relation to the application for the pardon of Benjamin Hopkins, of Ohio, under sentence for embezzling and misappropriating the funds of a national bank, with the following endorsement: "The condition of this convict's health is such, as appears from the examination which I have set on foot, that the question is presented whether he shall die at prison or at home. In this presentation I am willing that he shall spend his few remaining days among his friends, regardless of any other consideration connected with the case. On this ground alone his pardon is granted."

A BRILLIANT EVENT.

The Merry Dance Given at the Princess Rink by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The ball given last night at the Princess rink, by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers was one of the most brilliant events of the season. The mammoth building was crowded to its utmost capacity by fair ladies and gallant men, and the gay dancers witnessed the first light of early morn dawn ere they ceased their captivating pleasures.

The program of twenty-four numbers was commenced with the grand march, in which fifty-nine couples participated. The line was led by Mr. Walter Adams and pretty Miss Katie Kennedy. Conley's orchestra furnished the music and dance followed dance, until nearly daylight, the only intermission being when the gay party seated themselves to the magnificent supper provided by Mr. George McKinnis, of the Railroad hotel.

The floor managers were Ed. McDonald, chief, assisted by A. J. You, J. M. Dickson, C. M. Gorman, W. H. Gates, E. H. Yerick, F. A. Murphy, James Cranston, Wm. Beck and C. B. Brinsley.

Great credit is due to the efficient committee of arrangements, Andy McClure, William Glenn and Thomas McGuire, for their unwearied efforts which aided so much in the success of the ball. Mrs. Thomas McGuire, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Baxter, and Mrs. Jones, who were on the reception committee, also rendered invaluable services, while Joe Woods marshalled the dancers to the satisfaction of everybody.

There were a large number of railroad men from the surrounding cities and towns present.

Among the invited guests on the floor were Master Mechanic Wm. Morris, of the Wabash, and ladies; Superintendent C. D. Law, of the Fort Wayne road; Superintendent P. S. O'Rourke, of the Grand Rapids; C. R. Higgins, Councilman Williams, County Clerk Glenn and wife, of Huntington; Foreman John McClure, of Andrews, and Mrs. McClure.

HENRY AXT.

He Returns Home in an Inebriate Mood.

Henry Axt, whose detection at Uniondale, was noted yesterday, came home to-day, in good shape. He went to his wife's residence, attired himself in his Sunday clothes, and left again, offering no excuse for his strange maneuvers.

His reason is evidently dethroned, and he is not responsible for his acts. His brother shadowed his movements about town this afternoon.

Jerry North, J. J. Todd, E. Y. Sturges, W. D. Mason, Bluffton; J. S. Baker, Warsaw; Mrs. E. Carter, Miss Effie Locke, Waterloo, are guests of the Wayne.

The divorce suit of Sam Marchant vs. Mary Marchant is on trial before Judge O'Rourke. The evidence is scandalous.

INSANE AGAIN.

Queer Capers of Edward DeGratery in a Shoe Store.

Some time ago the newspapers aired the vicious attitude of Emil DeGratery, who was employed as hostler for Dr. Rosenthal.

He was adjudged insane at the time, but his relatives made a fuss and Judge O'Rourke discharged the patient.

Now they want him committed to an asylum, and herein lurks a tale.

This morning DeGratery went into a Calhoun street shoe store, carelessly pulled off his shoes, tossed them aside, and danced his feet in a pair of Christmas slippers. In a rambling talk he offered to swap his shoes for the slippers, and surmising his condition, Officer Franke was called. With the assistance of the clerks the slippers were taken from DeGratery, and he was removed to the jail.

He will now go to the asylum.

THE HEBREW SABBATH.

A Strong Sentiment Prevailing for a Change From Saturday to Sunday.

In Hebrew circles there is in progress a very earnest discussion of the proposition to change their Sabbath from Saturday to Sunday. That the movement has gained great strength, this from the Hebrew Standard attests:

There are certain facts which we are bound to recognize. These are that the business interests, the inexorable necessity, which compels hundreds to labor on the Jewish Sabbath in order to support their families, have made the observance of the Sabbath the exception instead of the rule. Those who cannot preach to; they do not come to listen to you. You cannot argue with them, because your words will not provide the bread which they and their families must have. There is no Jewish law forbidding worship on a Sunday or any other day of the week or year. There has been no attempt made to transfer, officially at least, the Jewish Sabbath to Sunday, though the first has been surrendered unofficially by hundreds of men who delight in owning a new in the most orthodox of synagogues. It is the unofficial transfer which stabs Judaism, and no action of the synagogue will avail against it. Our country does not stand alone in this. Every large city in Europe is in a similar plight, and before another century will have passed some action will have to be taken by leaders in Israel.

The Rochester (N. Y.) Jewish Tidings, in relation to the same matter, says:

Viewed in the proper light the question can never receive but one decision—the change must come.

The Old National bank sues the Pennington Pulley works for $200. Morris & Barrett are attorneys.

W. C. T. U.
Meeting Yesterday Afternoon and Address of Mrs. Holloway.

An interesting meeting of the W. C.
T. U. was held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. The newly elected president, Mrs. Marie L.
Holloway, delivered the following address:

Ladies of the Fort Wayne W. C. T. U.
Since you have seen fit to make me your presiding officer, will you kindly permit me, ere we take up the work before us, to present some thoughts that may bring us more in sympathy with each other, and which may enable us to work more intelligently and harmoniously than we otherwise might do.

Being almost an entire stranger to you all,
I am sure you will all be glad to hear me select some of the things which I shall have to do. My work, as you know, is altogether an unselfish one, simply a labor of love, actuated, I trust, by the spirit of the master, "whose we are and whom we serve," and it, therefore, must preclude all spirit of criticism, remembering that no one of us is perfect, and remembering also that each of us, in her zeal, or lack of it, is likely to do, or say, or leave undone or unsaid, some things that others will not approve of.

Let me, therefore, say to you all, that I shall endeavor to be as unselfish as possible, not forgetting that it is much easier to use stinging sarcasm than it is to heal the lacerated feelings occasioned thereby. I have not been able to learn why your former union lapsed into "innocuous desuetude," but if there have been any heart-burnings or ill feelings engendered by anything that has transpired heretofore, I trust that all shall be forgotten and that we shall press forward toward the mark for the prize
which awaits us.

We aim in the total annihilation of the liquor traffic. The prize is the joy, and peace and untold happiness which shall
come to the homes of this nation when
our purpose is accomplished. And it will be accomplished, let us hope, in
our day; but,

If you and I today,
Should stop and lay our work down,
And let our hands fall where they will—
Fall down to the gutter still—
Some other hand would come, and stoop to find
The threads we carried, so that it should wind
Beginning where we stopped.

And the work would go on. We must not be impatient if we do not realize immediate results. The work we have undertaken is a formidable one, and will require steady perseverance. There is neither time nor place for bickerings or squandling with regard to methods, etc.
There is abundance of work in the
different departments of our union
to engage the heart and mind, and
hands, and feet of every Christian
woman in Fort Wayne, and I could wish that every Christian woman in the city would open her eyes to the magnitude and importance of this temperance
work.

As we take up the different lines, let
us do it with the understanding that this drink devil has its grasp upon the
throat of every department of labor and society. We must therefore study how best to defeat it, and we should be able
to give a reason for every step we take,
that we may the better win helpers to
our cause.

Why shall we teach the children the
evils of and connected with the drink
habit and traffic? Because, forsooth,
they are to be the future men and women of our land? In the words of another, "All the criminals of the future
are children now—the anarchists, the
men who may throw railroad trains off
the track, or put dynamite
under a city church, or burn
half a city some night."

Again, "all the governors and legislators and presidents of the future are children now, shall we train them in
thoughts and habits of temperance or not?" And what is here said pertains to scientific instruction regarding alco-
hols and narcotics and Sunday school
temperance work, as well as to the special juvenile department. Then we have departments of "temperance literature,"
the "suppression of impure literature,"
and that of "influencing the press."

What a potent factor in a moral reform is the press of our country, equaling, if not surpassing, the pulpit in its far-reaching influence. We trust that the columns of our daily papers may be open to us, through which temperance teaching may be disseminated to the readers thereof, and how important it is that publishers of newspapers shall understand that it is inconsistent with honorable journalism to admit to their advertising columns that which they in-veigh against editorially. Then there are the departments of prisons and police stations, the hospitals, infirmaries, reformatories, the work among soldiers, evangelistic and social purity work, state and county fairs, legislation and petition department of franchise, &c., &c., up to more than forty different lines of work, none of them important, but where there are so few interested it will be utterly impossible to take up only those which seem to us preeminently important. There is a department however, not yet mentioned, which must not be neglected. I refer to the "Work Among Foreigners." Many of them are of our own race, but they are fastened upon them, and seeming to be entirely ignorant of the deleterious effects of what they call the lighter drinks of which beer is the principal.
They have not learned that beer is the most brutalizing and disease producing of all drinks, so that if our whole time was spent in educating the foreigners of our city in the principles of true temperance, possibly we should accomplish more than by taking up any other one line of work, always excepting the "Juvenile Department."

Let us, therefore, ladies, study this line, and let us be the best methods of accomplishing that which we shall decide upon, but there must be no heart-burnings, and no ill feelings engendered by anything that has transpired heretofore, I trust that all shall be
forgotten and that we shall press for-
ward toward the mark for the prize
which awaits us.

We aim in the total annihilation of the liquor traffic. The prize is the joy, and peace and untold happiness which shall
come to the homes of this nation when
our purpose is accomplished. And it will be accomplished, let us hope, in
our day; but,

If you and I today,
Should stop and lay our work down,
And let our hands fall where they will—
Fall down to the gutter still—
Some other hand would come, and stoop to find
The threads we carried, so that it should wind
Beginning where we stopped.

And the work would go on. We must
not be impatient if we do not realize immediate results. The work we have undertaken is a formidable one, and will require steady perseverance. There is neither time nor place for bickerings or
squandling with regard to methods, etc.
There is abundance of work in the
different departments of our union
to engage the heart and mind, and
hands, and feet of every Christian
woman in Fort Wayne, and I could
wish that every Christian woman in the
city would open her eyes to the mag-
work.

As we take up the different lines, let
us do it with the understanding that this
drink devil has its grasp upon the
throat of every department of labor and
society. We must therefore study how best to defeat it, and we should be able
to give a reason for every step we take,
that we may the better win helpers to
our cause.

Why shall we teach the children the
evils of and connected with the drink
habit and traffic? Because, forsooth,
they are to be the future men and women of our land? In the words of
another, "All the criminals of the future
are children now—the anarchists, the
men who may throw railroad trains off
the track, or put dynamite
under a city church, or burn
half a city some night."

Again, "all the governors and legislators and presidents of the future are
children now, shall we train them in
thoughts and habits of temperance or
not?" And what is here said pertains to scientific instruction regarding alco-
hols and narcotics and Sunday school
temperance work, as well as to the special juvenile department. Then we have

Fort Wayne Sentinel.

FRIDAY, DEC. 21, 1888.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Bicycle club will meet to-night.

Mr. R. Simonton, of Huntington, was in the city this morning.

The Presbyterian church ladies of Bluffton cleared $500 by a kindness.

Rev. Father Campion, of Logansport, is contemplating a visit to Europe next year.

Mr. Geo. R. Hench, of the American Farmer, has returned from a business trip to Quincy, Ill.

Col. I. B. McDonald, of Columbia City, has changed his plans and will pass the winter in Florida.

The literary societies of the M. E. college will give their usual weekly entertainments this evening.

A correspondent at Cromwell, Ind., writes to the Ligonier Banner: "The Fort Wayne horse doctors are still here and doing a good business. They evidently understand what they are doing."

One hundred and fifty-five towns and cities in this state have organized health boards, and many of them did good work during the past year. Seventeen towns and cities now require burial permits.

The Columbia City Post is preparing for publication a list of the subscribers who "beat" the publisher by moving away without paying, or take the paper awhile and then direct the postmaster to card it as "refused."

Dr. E. B. Clark, a patent attorney of Washington, D. C., who has been in the city for a few days, left last evening for his home. He was here for the purpose of arranging patent papers for an important invention of one of our leading manufacturers. Dr. Clark is one of the most successful patent attorneys at the national capital and enjoys a large practice.

The Huntington Herald says: "Mr. John Trentman has been a guest of his brother-in-law, August Koenig, and his daughter, Mamie, since Wednesday. The gentleman was at one time city clerk of Fort Wayne, is now a prominent business man of Omaha and also has interests at St. Paul. Before returning west he will visit relatives, including several daughters at Dayton, Ohio."

The Huntington Herald says: "S. Bash and son, Dan, of the firm of S. Bash & Co., Fort Wayne, came down Wednesday afternoon and inspected the work of removing the rock from Little river east of the city. They were astonished at the enormity of the work accomplished and were granted the privilege of setting off a charge of dynamite. They also expressed surprise at the growth of our city."

The M. E. College has a holiday vacation.

The Wayne Building and Loan association meets to-night.

A solitary drunk made a lonely howl to his honor this morning.

Mr. H. O. Daugherty, of Lafayette, was in the city last evening.

Mayor Muhler committed five tramps to the stone pile this morning.

Barry & Fay, present "McKenna's Flirtation" to-morrow evening.

Rev. D. C. Woolpert officiated at a marriage ceremony at Muncie to-day.

Mr. Horace Hanna and his bride are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Purman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bell will visit their relatives at Cleveland Christmas day.

Henry Meinzer, a student at Purdue university, is at home here for the holidays.

The new car shop of the street railway company, on Glasgow avenue, is about completed.

The Grace Reformed church will render a beautiful cantata at their parlors next Monday evening.

The F. R. & L. club are arranging for a pleasant ball to be given Monday evening, at Anderson's hall.

Most of the pupils from abroad at Westminster seminary have gone home to enjoy the holiday vacation.

The Journal states that Hon. W. H. Shambaugh is out of the race for speaker of the house of representatives.

Miss Sister Stettiner, of Tracyville, Ohio, is in the city visiting Miss Laura Oppenheimer, of West Berry street.

Mr. W. H. F. Fowler, cashier for the Nickel Plate company, with Mrs. Fowler, will spend Christmas at Cleveland.

The Concordia college closed for the holiday vacation yesterday, and its students are en route home for the holidays.

Mrs. Lydia M. Grim, of Abioite township, died yesterday, aged sixty-three years. The funeral took place this afternoon.

There was no quorum present at the meeting of the trustees of the City hospital last evening, and no business was transacted.

F. D. Haight, Grand Rapids; L. Williams, Detroit; R. F. Williams, Lima, O., and O. D. Caldwell, Detroit, are at the Rich.

Mr. John Lillie and Mr. W. McK. Pardee, civil engineer of the Nickel Plate road, visited Lillie & Munson's quarries, at Huntington, yesterday.

Henry Barson, a resident of Logansport, was killed by a Pan Handle train near that city Wednesday last. The Pharo says he has a brother living at Fort Wayne.

On Christmas afternoon and evening two grand minstrel performances will be given by Rice & Shepard's minstrels. The company is the best on the road. Among its singers is the waltz king, Mr. Frank Howard.

This morning, a huge St. Bernard dog collided with Mrs. Henry Kleiner, of the Fifth ward, on the west side of Calhoun street, and throwing the lady down, injured her severely. She was taken to her home in a carriage.

Mr. L. O. Leonard, of Anaconda, Mont., general superintendent of the Rocky Mountain Telegraph company, is in the city and will spend Christmas with his parents, Prof. and Mrs. N. R. Leonard. He is being introduced by his brother, Editor Frank Leonard, of the Gazette.

Barry and Fay, two of the funniest men on top of the earth, will be at the Temple opera house to-morrow night in the funniest play on the road, "McKenna's Flirtation." This piece is far superior to anything they have ever presented, and affords them ample opportunity to display their peculiar talent.

Mr. Will M. Wilkinson, who will be pleasantly recalled as a manager of the Academy in its palmy days, is in the city arranging for the appearance of Robert Downing at the Temple next Wednesday and Thursday. The star will present "Spartacus, the Gladiator," and "Virginius" in the order named. Mr. Wilkinson says his party have been doing a phenomenal business and deserve to, as they have a great company. Much of Mr. Downing's success is due to Mr. Wilkinson's untiring efforts, if his work in this city can be accepted as an example.

Mr. John McLaughlin has gone to Duluth.

This is Forefathers' day, the anniversary of the landing of the pilgrims.

The Hotel Brunswick has placed an electric light in their handsome new office.

The Sunday school of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a pleasant time yesterday evening.

Wm. Kern, Hoagland, Ind.; E. S. Ross, Wabash, were guests of the Avenue house last night.

Mr. J. P. Long, of Richmond, and E. F. Welch, of North Manchester, were in the city last evening.

Chas. F. Pfeiffer sues Christopher Meyers et al. to foreclose a mortgage for $2,000. Randall & Vesey are attorneys.

The Concordia college has adjourned for the holiday vacation and many of the students have gone to their homes.

Messrs. John S. Glenn, Henry F. Drover, L. F. Day, Geo. W. Humbert and James R. Slack were guests of the Hotel Brunswick last evening. They came to attend the engineers' ball.

A bad accident occurred on the Mahoning road, near Ottawa, Ohio, yesterday, where a new bridge is being built across the Blanchard river. The scaffolding fell and a number of workmen were injured.

Ellen Hamilton Wagenhals has sold to Fred Zimmerly lot 301, Hamilton's fourth addition, for $800; Samuel Bard has sold to Geo. W. Soliday a lot in College addition, for $665; Angelina Denner has sold to M. M. Thompson lot 53, White's addition, for $322.

A gentleman who recently returned from a hunting trip in Illinois says there are thousands of quail there, but every farm is posted, and a hunter can hardly climb a fence without hearing a stentorian voice call out: "Git out o' there; no huntin' 'lowed on this place."

The Morton club gave the first of its winter receptions last evening and some sixty ladies and gentlemen participated in the brilliant social whirl. Dancing was the feature of the evening, and Professors Reinecke and Jacobs did the musical honors. The next reception occurs January 10.

The Baptist ladies gave their regular Thursday evening social in the church parlors last night. The attendance was fair and the exercises interesting. A feature of the entertainment was an old fashioned spelling school, in which Mr. Mason Long participated. He was one of the last to be "spelled down," and the knowledge he displayed in this sadly neglected branch, orthography, was a surprise to the younger contestants.

Mary E. Graham, wife of the late Engineer Jim Graham, has sold to Congressman J. B. White her residence property at the corner of East Wayne and Clinton streets, for $12,000. Henry Rauscou, of Chicago, Mrs. Graham's son-in-law, appears as executor. Mrs. Graham was stricken with paralysis at his home some time ago and is still a sufferer. Captain White said this morning that he purchased the property solely as a speculation and would not build on it.

Princess Rink will be open to-morrow afternoon and evening. Music in attendance.

THE HONOR OF THE WHEEL.

The Sentinel Reporter Kipton a Tour of the Shops and Quarters His Daily Budget.

Railroad travel is good.

The express companies are having a big business.

The manufacturing establishments will close down next Tuesday.

The annual inventory at the Pittsburgh shops will commence to-morrow.

A long train load of cattle went east on the Pittsburgh road this morning.

The ball of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers last night was the event of the season.

Nicholas Wisener, of the Olds wheel works, has resigned his position and will engage in other business.

Delphos, O., wants the Pittsburgh shops, too, and is bidding for them, but the great works will remain here.

"Peace on Earth and Good Will to Men," is the motto that heads one of the advertising circulars just issued by the Wabash road.

The Pennsylvania company has set aside $1,200,000 to be used in the purchase of freight equipments in the way of box, stock and gondola cars.

Conductor Peter Fordling is in charge of the Wabash pay car this week, and Brakeman Clark Cole is running the Andrews and Fort Wayne local.

The Wabash firemen's dance occurs next Monday evening at Andrews. It is in the hands of competent committees and a splendid affair is anticipated.

Seymour Boyd, clerk in the Bass offices, who has been quite ill for several weeks, is out again, but will not resume his duties until some time next week.

The ticket agents are beginning to hustle for the holiday travel, and appearances indicate that all the roads leading out of this city will have a good business.

The fast trains between Philadelphia and Washington, just put on by the Baltimore and Ohio road, are known as the "Flying Yankee" and the "Senatorial Express."

Mr. J. H. Bass, the president of the great Bass works, while anticipating no great rush in the manufacturing business during the winter months, is of the opinion that we will have a fair season.

Carl P. Swain, the handsome Associated Press operator, will soon bid farewell to the Pittsburgh depot and come down town to the company's office in the Avenue house block, which will soon be ready for occupancy.

Owen Barry, of the Pittsburgh blacksmith shops, had his chicken coop visited by thieves the other night. He has an immense Newfoundland dog and the noble canine attacked the midnight visitors and drove them away.

The crossing of the Mahoning and Lake Erie and Western railway will be put in at Findlay this week, and the Mahoning will then begin building east as well as west. The first shipment of steel rails was received at Findlay yesterday.

The probabilities are that within a few months the railroad shops of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad located in Allegheny, will be dismantled, and the company will double the capacity of their shops at Altoona and Fort Wayne.

The Olds wheel works are now only working eight hours a day. The establishment has no lights in the different rooms and can consequently only work during the daylight hours. The employees commence work at 7:30 in the morning and quit at 4:30 in the afternoon.

A few days since a president of one of the Chicago roads was quoted as saying: "I build roads to sell, not to operate them." This is one of the main difficulties in the way of settling rate troubles, and there are too many roads built with the expectation of forcing a powerful line into buying them.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad company has sold to John Torrent, of Muskegon, their entire tract of 5,000 acres in Muskegon county, Mich. The price to be paid is $800,000, a part of the consideration being that the timber, estimated at 200,000,000 feet, shall be manufactured at Lake City, Mich., and shall be transported by the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad company.

Several of the railroad boys will bid farewell to their bachelor life during the holidays.

Taking effect January 1, 1889, east bound and west bound rates on pig iron and the articles named in the special iron tariff of the Trunk Line association will be on the basis of twenty-five cents per 100 pounds in car loads, and thirty cents per 100 pounds in less than car loads, between New York and Chicago.

Pittsburg passenger trains Nos. 8 and 2, east bound, last evening, were crowded with people who were on their way to Pittsburg, New York and other eastern cities and every sleeping berth on the trains was engaged long before their arrival here. The holiday travel has commenced and the Pittsburgh seems to be doing more than its share of it.

Commencing with yesterday, all through trains run over the Bee line between Cleveland and St. Louis are heated by steam taken from the locomotive, and passengers report the trains as being very comfortable. The engineers state that the loss of steam for heating a train, even of ten coaches, is not perceptible in its lessening the ability of the engines to haul the trains, schedule time being made by every train.
